Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

9 Edgewood Road is situated at the north end of a row of three houses on the east side of the south end of Edgewood Road north of the Northeast Corridor right-of-way. The house is a typical, altered, single story, cross-gabled bungalow.

Its original plan appears to have been identical to the adjacent 7 Edgewood Road. Present differences reflect later alterations. The property contains the house and a wood-framed, gable-roofed outbuilding located in the rear yard of the house.

As noted, this single story, wood-framed house is cross-gabled in plan with an enclosed porch extending across the west facade and wrapping around to the south wall of the house. The front door is reached by concrete steps and is situated in the south bay of the facade of the porch. A second door is placed in the rear wall of the house. The porch is fenestrated with paired, six over six, double hung, sash windows. Non-functional, louvered, wood shutters flank these windows. The remaining fenestration consists of single and paired, six over six and one over one, double hung, sash windows. An original window in the gable peak of the facade has been replaced by a rectangular, louvered, metal vent.

The house has a concrete foundation, walls sheathed in aluminum siding, and a roof sheathed in composition shingles. A concrete block chimney adjoins the north cross gable of the house.

As noted, a gabled roof, single story, wood-framed utility shed is situated in the rear yard of the house. This shed, which has deep overhanging eaves, has a door in its east wall. Its walls are sheathed in vinyl siding, and its roof is sheathed in composition shingles. This shed was probably built within the past twenty years.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

9 Edgewood Road is a typical, small, wood-framed 1930s era bungalow-craftsman style house similar to many others constructed in small towns and larger cities of the United States in the period. As a typical example of a common architectural style, it lacks architectural significance. The house may have been constructed as rental housing for workers at the nearby Edgewood Arsenal.

The house, as others on the east side of Edgewood Road north of the Northeast Corridor underpass, was constructed on a portion of a 5 acre, 50 perch parcel, which represented part a parcel known as Coot's Hill. This parcel was sold by Sallie A. and Edward H. Tydings to Julius Hein for $1,490 (Harford County Deed Book 125:19, May 30, 1908). The parcel on which both 7 and 9 Edgewood Road is located was owned by the Hein family until 1959. In that year, trustees under the will of Julius Hein sold the .239 acre parcel to Wilbert F. and Margaret Bullock for $10 and other good and valuable considerations (Harford County Deed Book 531:167). The property remains in Bullock family ownership.

According to state tax assessment records, both 7 and 9 Edgewood Road were constructed in 1940. Exterior detailing of both houses suggests a somewhat earlier construction date. Both houses are not shown on a 1920 aerial photograph of the vicinity, while both are shown on a 1941 aerial photograph (both in the collection of the Command Historian's Office, US Army Chemical and Biological Defense Command).
